

Non-Profit Contributors

Group	California Healthline (California HealthCare Foundation)
Location	Oakland, Calif.
Website	www.californiahealthline.org , www.chcf.org
Contact	Spencer A. Sherman, ssherman@chcf.org , 510-587-3111
Purpose	California Healthline is designed to educate and inform government leaders, policymakers, industry, labor, advocates and the public interested in the future of California's health care system as part of the California HealthCare Foundation's commitment to important issues affecting health care policy, delivery and financing.
Non-profit Status	501(c)4, required by its bylaws to operate as a 501(c)3, a non-profit, non-partisan, private philanthropy.
Link to Form 990	http://www.chcf.org/about/financial-reports
Funding	California Healthline is 100 percent funded by the California HealthCare Foundation from its endowment.
Journalism	CaliforniaHealthline.org provides original reporting, commentary and a daily digest of health care news, policy and opinion. It has a staff of 17, including Editor Paula Fortner , Managing Editor Kate Ackerman , Editor in Chief Amanda Wolfe , Features Editor George Lauer , Sacramento Correspondent David Gorn , and a group of staff writers and contributing editors.

Group	Climate Central
Location	Princeton, N.J., and Palo Alto, Calif.
Website	www.climatecentral.org
Contact	Shari Bell, sbell@climatecentral.org , 609-986-1985
Purpose	Climate Central's mission is to provide factual information to help mainstream Americans understand how climate change connects to them and provide their audiences with the knowledge they need to make informed decisions about their future.
Non-profit Status	501(c)(3) public philanthropy
Link to Form 990	http://dynamodata.fdncenter.org/990_pdf_archive/261/261797336/261797336_200906_990.pdf
Funding	Individuals, foundations, government agencies, and institutions currently providing funding for Climate Central: Army Corps of Engineers, Flora Family Foundation, Foundation for Environmental Research, George Mason University, Google.org, Jay Harris, NASA Goddard Space Flight Center, NASA Headquarters, NASA Langley, Northrup Grumman, Peter T Paul Foundation, Rockefeller Brothers Fund, Rockefeller Family Fund, Saul D Levy Foundation, The David & Lucille Packard Foundation, The Dixon Family Fund, The Robert & Ellen Gutenstein Foundation, The Schmidt Family Foundation, The Winslow Foundation, Turner Foundation, Inc. http://dynamodata.fdncenter.org/990_pdf_archive/261/261797336/261797336_200906_990.pdf

Journalism	Climate Central covers climate science and solutions on a local level, while framing the issues in a larger context. Climate Central is run by scientists and journalists, most affiliated with Stanford and Princeton. Andrew Freedman , managing editor of online content and climate policy analyst, formerly was a reporter for Congressional Quarterly and Greenwire/E&E Daily. At washingtonpost.com, he writes a weekly climate science column for the "Capital Weather Gang" blog. Senior Science Writer Michael D. Lemonick covered science and the environment for TIME magazine for nearly 21 years, and has also written for Discover, Scientific American, Wired, New Scientist and The Washington Post.
-------------------	---

Group	California Health Report, HealthyCal.org
Location
Website	www.healthycal.org
Contact	Dan Weintraub, daniel.weintraub@gmail.com , 916-320-7159
Purpose	HealthyCal.org's purpose is to inform Californians about public health and community health issues, to engage readers in an ongoing conversation about matters ranging from health care policy to land-use, transportation, environment, criminal justice and economic policy, and to show how all of these things are connected.
Non-profit Status	HealthyCal.org is a project of the Tides Center, a 501(c) 3 nonprofit organization.
Link to Form 990	http://www.tides.org/about/financials/
Funding	Grants have come from the California Endowment, SCAN Foundation and the Blue Shield of California Foundation.
Journalism	HealthyCal.org covers health care, public health and community health issues in state government and in communities across California. HealthyCal is led by veteran journalist Daniel Weintraub , who is the editor and director of HealthyCal.org. Weintraub is a veteran of 25 years covering California politics and policy for the Los Angeles Times, Orange County Register, the Sacramento Bee and the New York Times. They also have a network of freelance writers from around California.

Group	EdSource Inc.
Location	Mountain View, Calif.
Website	www.edsource.org
Contact	Louis Freedberg, lfreedberg@californiamedia.org , 415 298-1595
Purpose	EdSource focuses on explaining complex education issues and promoting thoughtful policy decisions about public school improvement, concentrating on California K-14 education.
Non-profit Status	501(c)3 nonprofit organization
Link to Form 990
Funding	Most general support comes from California-focused philanthropies such as the Bechtel Foundation and the James Irvine Foundation. Funders are listed on its website at http://www.edsource.org/about_funders.html

Journalism	Original enterprise reporting, reports and analysis of education issues. Executive Editor Louis Freedberg , founder of California Watch, is a journalist with more than 25 years of experience. There are six other writer/researchers on the staff.
Group	Kaiser Health News (Henry J. Kaiser Family Foundation)
Location	Menlo Park, Calif., and Washington, D.C.
Website	http://www.kaiserhealthnews.org
Contact	Peggy Girshman, peggyg@khn.org , 202-654-1459
Purpose	Kaiser Health News is a nonprofit news organization that provides in-depth coverage of health care policy, politics and finances for a general audience. Neither Kaiser Health News nor Kaiser Family Foundation is affiliated with the health insurer Kaiser Permanente.
Non-profit Status	501(c)3 organization
Link to Form 990
Funding	Kaiser Health News is an editorially independent program of the Kaiser Family Foundation and its journalists are employees of the foundation and work in the Washington, D.C., office of the foundation. The Kaiser Family Foundation has an endowment of over half a billion dollars and an operating budget of over $40 million per year. KHN's coverage of aging and long term care issues is supported by a grant from The SCAN Foundation, a nonprofit based in Long Beach, Calif.
Journalism	Kaiser Health News covers trends in the delivery of health care and in the marketplace. It has 18 editors and reporters, all with experience in print, online or broadcast journalism. Editor in Chief John Fairhall spent 27 years at The Baltimore Sun and as assistant managing editor, he oversaw health and science coverage. Executive Editor Peggy Girshman was a managing editor of National Public Radio and an executive editor at Congressional Quarterly.
Group	MapLight
Location	Berkeley, Calif.
Website	http://maplight.org
Contact	Pamela Heisey, pamela@maplight.org , 416-299-0898, 510-868-0894
Purpose	MapLight is a nonprofit, nonpartisan research organization that reports on money's influence on politics.
Non-profit Status	501(c)3 nonprofit organization
Link to Form 990	http://maplight.org/irs-form-990s
Funding	Foundation support includes the Sunlight Foundation, Open Society Foundation, Rockefeller Brothers Fund, John Randolph Haynes and Dora Haynes Foundation, Columbia Foundation, Wallace Alexander Gerbode Foundation, Threshold Foundation, Rockefeller Family Fund, Arkay Foundation, William B. Wiener Foundation. See a full list at http://maplight.org/foundations .

Journalism	MapLight, a political money tracker, connects data on campaign contributions, politicians, votes, industries, companies, and more to show patterns of influence. MapLight's editorial team consists of a research director/editor, a data analyst, two reporters/researchers and a group of research interns. Jeffrey ErnstFriedman , the research director, has a degree in journalism and spent six years in Washington, D.C., covering Congress for Congressional Quarterly.
-------------------	--

Group	The Maynard Institute
Location	Oakland, Calif.
Website	http://www.mije.org
Contact	Elisabeth Pinio, epinio@mije.org , 510-891-9202
Purpose	The Robert C. Maynard Institute for Journalism Education emphasizes diversity in journalism and is dedicated to training journalists of color and providing accurate representation of minorities in the news media.
Non-profit Status	501(c)(3) non-profit organization
Link to Form 990	http://www2.guidestar.org/organizations/94-2427279/Home.aspx
Funding	America's Wire, a key component of the Maynard Media Center on Structural Inequity, is funded under a grant awarded by the W.K. Kellogg Foundation.
Journalism	America's Wire stories examine the impact of structural racism on communities of color in America. Michael K. Frisby , president of America's Wire, is an award-winning journalist, who spent 22 years as newspaper reporter, including seven years as the White House correspondent for the Wall Street Journal. He also spent 10 years as a political reporter with the Boston Globe. Staff writer Marjorie Valbrun , an award-winning reporter, has worked as a national reporter for The Wall Street Journal, an editorial writer for the Baltimore Sun, an urban affairs reporter for The Philadelphia Inquirer and as a general assignment reporter and foreign correspondent for The Miami Herald.

Group	Voice of Orange County
Location	Santa Ana, Calif.
Website	www.voiceofoc.org
Contact	David Washburn, dwashburn@voiceofoc.org , 619.871.9792
Purpose	A nonprofit investigative news agency dedicated to in-depth coverage of Orange County government and politics.
Non-profit Status	501(c)3 organization
Link to Form 990
Funding	VOC is funded primarily through grants and donations, although it accepts advertising and corporate sponsorships. The largest funders are the Orange County Employees Association, The California Endowment and philanthropist Wylie Aitken. An entire list of funders is found at https://npo.networkforgood.org/Donate/Donate.aspx?npoSubscriptionId=1003595&code=Header .

Journalism	Voice of Orange County covers the vexing issues that most challenge modern society – things like homelessness, development and the environment. Its journalists cover the nuts and bolts of local government by monitoring claims and lawsuits filed against the cities, reviewing campaign finance filings and conflict of interest disclosures made by city officials, and producing investigative news coverage intended to hold government agencies and elected officials accountable. Among the staff of six are Norberto Santana , former investigative reporter for the Orange County Register, David Washburn , former investigative reporter for the San Diego Union Tribune and Tracy Wood , former investigative reporter/editor for the Los Angeles Times.
-------------------	---

Colleges and Universities

Group	MissionLoc@I.org
Location	San Francisco
Website	http://MissionLocal.org
Contact	Lydia Chavez, lcha@berkeley.edu , 415-793-3811
Purpose	MissionLoc@I is run by the graduate school of journalism at the University of California to cover an undercovered community, the Mission district of San Francisco, a historically Latino neighborhood.
Non-profit Status	UC is a state-run institution.
Link to Form 990
Funding	MissionLoc@I and sister sites Richmond Confidential and NorthOaklandLocal are underwritten by a Ford Foundation grant.
Journalism	City news and features. Editor Lydia Chavez is a tenured professor at the journalism school and formerly was a reporter for the New York Times, Los Angeles Times and Time magazine.

Group	OaklandNorth.net
Location	Oakland, Calif.
Website	http://oaklandnorth.net
Contact	Cynthia Gorney, gorney@berkeley.edu , (510) 642-4579
Purpose	OaklandNorth.net is run by the graduate school of journalism at the University of California to cover an undercovered community, northern Oakland, an area that borders Berkeley.
Non-profit Status	UC is a state-run institution.
Link to Form 990
Funding	OaklandNorth and sister sites MissionLoc@I and Richmond Confidential are underwritten by a Ford Foundation grant.

Journalism	City news and features. Senior Editor Cynthia Gorney is a former reporter and bureau chief for the Washington Post and continues to write for magazines. She also is the author of "Articles of Faith: A History of the Abortion Wars."
Group	RichmondConfidential.org
Location	Richmond, Calif.
Website	http://richmondlocal.org
Contact	Bob Calo, calo@berkeley.edu , 510-643-4645
Purpose	Richmond Confidential is run by the graduate school of journalism at the University of California to cover an undercovered community, Richmond, Calif.
Non-profit Status	Richmond Confidential is a program at the University of California, a state-run institution.
Link to Form 990
Funding	Richmond Confidential and its sister sites, MissionLoc@I and NorthOaklandLocal, are underwritten by a Ford Foundation grant. A full-time reporting "fellowship" for each site comes from donations.
Journalism	City news and features. Richmond Local's editor and academic head is Bob Calo , a former producer for ABC News "Primetime Live" and for NBC News, who has taught at UC for 10 years. Managing editor is Eric Simons is a former newspaper and magazine journalist and the author of the nonfiction book "Darwin Slept Here."